

Mystery Still Surrounds Bombings

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — A mystery which was made to be solved by the investigation of the bombing of the Cambridge County Courthouse in Bel Air, Md., on Tuesday, has been deepened by the discovery of a second bombing in the same building on Wednesday.

The second bombing occurred about 11 p.m. Wednesday, when a car of the Cambridge County Sheriff's Office was hit by a bomb. The car was damaged and the driver, a police officer, was injured. The bomb was found in the car's trunk.

The trial was shifted from Cambridge to Bel Air, 64 miles north across Chesapeake Bay, because of fear that it might be further disturbed in this city of 12,000.

Brown's attorney, William M. Kunster, has obtained postponement of further court proceedings until Monday.

"A pattern has developed in this case, and there may be more and more incidents if the trial resumes," Kunster declared Wednesday.

Li. Col. Thomas S. Smith of the Maryland State Police told the woman sought in the courthouse bombing "is only a suspect."

"She is only suspect because she was seen in and around the courthouse Tuesday before closing," Smith said. "She is from out of state. We have a very good description and a possible name."

Smith declined to identify the state, or to release the name. Smith said the woman was white.

the title of counselor to the President, replied:

"That's a possible explanation, of course. But I've been in government most of my life and there's hardly a day for the newspapers in this country in which some government document that's internal is not published and discussed upon in some way or another."

The great danger in the leaks, Moynihan said, is the effect disclosure can have on the flow of information to the President.

"Advisers, staff, assistants to people ought to be as free as they can be to say exactly what they think and report whatever information they have in private. If these channels aren't reasonably private, then people stop doing that."

Moynihan has been under sharp attack since publication last week of a January memorandum in which he suggested a policy of "benign neglect" toward the racial question.

The latest disclosures in Moynihan discussed lower class violence and urged the transformation of the black lower class into "a stable working class population."

"I got a vote," Mansfield told newsmen Wednesday after the Senate's 62-21 rejection of a move to table and thus kill the amendment to a bill extending the 1965 Voting Rights Act.

The tabling motion was offered by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., who said afterward he recognized the vote as an expression of the will of the Senate in lowering the voting age.

The Democratic leader had wanted a final vote Wednesday but was set back momentarily when Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., proposed his series of amendments to the proposal.

Mansfield's amendment stirred up sharp debate centered around whether the voting age can be lowered by an act of Congress or whether a constitutional amendment is required.

U.S. Combat Deaths Dip Considerably

By MICHAEL PUTZEL Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The total of U.S. combat deaths in Vietnam dropped to 68 last week, a reduction of 32 per cent from the previous week's three-month high of 113. But the wounded total jumped 75 per cent, from 465 to 803.

The U.S. Command's weekly summary of casualties raised the total number of Americans reported killed in action in Vietnam to 40,948 since Jan. 1, 1961. A total of 269,099 Americans have been reported wounded, and another 1,363 are listed as missing or captured.

The allied commands claimed 2,105 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed last week, bringing the reported enemy total for the war to 607,886. The Saigon government's battle dead exceeded the U.S. total for the 42nd consecutive week, with 343 men reported killed and 742 wounded.

The U.S. Command reported three American helicopters were destroyed by ground fire Wednesday, including an OH58 Kiowa observation craft, the latest model chopper to join the Vietnam war. It was the first Kiowa loss reported.

The two-man ship was on a reconnaissance mission over Bien Hoa Province just north-east of Saigon when it was hit and crashed. One of its crewmen was wounded.

The other two helicopters lost were an OH6 shot down in Tay Ninh Province, wounding three men, and an AH1 Cobra gunship that went down southwest of Da Nang, killing one crew member and wounding the other.

Three other U.S. Army helicopters were shot up Wednesday night—but not destroyed—while trying to rescue wounded men of the Americal Division during a battle 12 miles south of Quang Ngai City.

The U.S. infantrymen came under heavy mortar fire followed by a ground attack, U.S. headquarters reported. American infantrymen returned the fire and called in helicopter gunships.

One UH1 helicopter sent in to evacuate the wounded was hit by enemy ground fire and one soldier aboard was killed, the U.S. Command said. Although damaged, the helicopter was able to return to its base.

Another helicopter was called in and also was hit. It landed at a landing zone nearby. About half an hour later, a third helicopter attempting to evacuate wounded was hit and forced to land nearby. That craft and its crew were retrieved during the night.

The second and third helicopters were marked with Red Crosses and were unarmed, U.S. spokesmen said.

The battle broke off after nearly three hours of fighting. In addition to the man killed aboard the helicopter, six Americans were wounded and two North Vietnamese were killed, the U.S. Command said.

Lamar School Attendance Is Gaining

LAMAR, S.C. (AP) — Attendance rose to 251 Wednesday at a Lamar high school and elementary complex reopened Tuesday under heavy police guard after a week's closure because of integration violence.

Supt. Cliff Severence said the increase from 76 present on Tuesday was "very encouraging." He said Wednesday's attendance included 40 whites and 112 Negroes in the high school and 25 whites and 74 Negroes in the elementary school.

Two more men were arrested Wednesday, raising to 31 the number of white men arrested on riot charges. All have been freed under bond of $2,000 each for hearings.

There has been no violence since the schools reopened.

Hijacked Air Liner Returns to the U.S.

MIAMI (AP) — A United Air Lines jetliner forced to fly to Cuba by an armed hijacker described as an American Negro returned to Miami Wednesday night minus six of the 106 persons originally aboard.

Those who stayed in Havana were the gunman and a woman hijacker, all described as youths about 20 years old, ordered the crew to fly the craft to Cuba.

Little River Gets U.S. Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $25,000 loan to the Little River County Housing Authority, Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., announced Wednesday.

The funds are to be used in the planning of 70 low-rent housing units at Ashdown and Foreman.

Nixon Would Replace the Budget Bureau

By FRANK CORMIER Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon called today for establishment of a new domestic council to formulate policy and creation of an office of management and budget to replace the Budget Bureau.

In a special message to Congress, Nixon summarized his plan for revamping of the Executive Office of the President: "The Domestic Council will be primarily concerned with what we do; the Office of Management and Budget will be primarily concerned with how we do it, and how well we do it."

Nixon said he was acting because the machinery available to him to manage the federal bureaucracy "has not kept pace" with governmental growth.

The planned reorganization would go into effect automatically unless either the Senate or House vetoes it within 60 days.

"We in government often are quick to call for reform in other institutions," he said, "but slow to reform ourselves. Yet nowhere today is modern management more needed than in government itself."

And, he concluded that the place to begin moves toward improved management was in his own bailiwick, the Executive Office of the President.

Nixon said the proposed domestic council would "coordinate policy formulation in the domestic area," and added: "This Cabinet group would be provided with an institutional staff, and to a considerable degree would be a domestic counterpart to the National Security Council."

The new office of management and budget, he said, "represents far more than a mere change of name for the Bureau of the Budget."

Ruling in Kidnap Case Is Expected

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — U.S. District Judge Paul X. Williams was expected to rule on a motion today asking for a continuance in the trial of five persons charged with the kidnaping of Karen Vickers, 15, of Texarkana.

The trial of Paul L. Bryant, 21, Joe W. Feggett, 23, and Booker T. Burkhalter, 24, all of Dallas, Tex.; Johnnie Tashy, 21, of Lafayette County, Ark.; and Hugh M. Smith, 26, of Texarkana, Tex., is scheduled to begin March 23.

Miss Vickers was abducted from her home in January and was released unharmed after being held for more than 24 hours. The abductors demanded $40,000 ransom but the money was never paid.

Williams is also expected to rule on 14 other motions, including one seeking a change of venue for the trial and one seeking separate trials for the defendants.

The motion seeking continuance says there has not been enough time to prepare "an adequate defense."

Two Killed in Accident at Malvern

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) — Two Malvern men were killed and a third was injured early today in a one-car accident on Arkansas 51 four miles west of Malvern.

State Police identified the dead as Charles Woodall, 27, and Ronald Vanmeter, 23. Donald Hudson, 24, was seriously injured, police said.

Investigators said that a car driven by Woodall ran off the highway and struck a rockbed. Hudson and Vanmeter were passengers in the car.

Mixture of Weather Over State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas' weather scene for today is a hodgepodge of precipitation ranging from rain in the southern portion of the state to snow and sleet in the northern sections of the state.

Snow accumulations of three inches have been reported in the Harrison area with hazardous driving conditions due to glazing.

Huntsville schools have been closed because of snow.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts partial clearing tonight and below freezing readings to all sections of the state.

Friday is expected to be generally clear to partly cloudy. Sunshine should raise temperatures into the 40s and 50s during the afternoon. However, readings are expected to remain below seasonal normals for at least another two or three days.

Local hazardous driving conditions are expected to continue over higher elevations in the northwest today, but sunshine should melt the snow Friday.

Highs Wednesday ranged from 51 at Texarkana and El Dorado to 37 at Harrison. Overnight lows were 28 at Fayetteville; 26 at Harrison; 34 at Jonesboro and Pine Bluff; 37 at Texarkana; 35 at El Dorado; 39 at Memphis; 34 at Little Rock and Fort Smith.

Precipitation totals reported during the past 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today include: three inches of snow at Harrison and an inch of snow at Fayetteville; .53 of an inch of rain at Jonesboro; .57 at Pine Bluff; .28 at Texarkana; .22 at El Dorado; .33 at Memphis; .60 at Little Rock.

Suit Charges Violation of Lease

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A hearing on a suit in which Mrs. Jacqueline Kilgor Slinger of Blytheville contends that the operator of a nursing home violated the lease agreement has been rescheduled for Monday.

The suit was to have been heard Wednesday in Chancery Court here.

Mrs. Slinger, who owns three nursing homes, filed the suit March 2. The homes, which are leased to operators, include the Rollis Co. Inc. nursing homes at Pine Bluff and Sparkman and the Kilgor-Boyles nursing home at Malvern.

Welfare Commissioner Len Blaylock said earlier this week that patients were moved from the three homes last weekend without notification to the department and, in some cases, the patients' families.

Mrs. Mabel Rollins Hucksby of Pine Bluff, operator of the Pine Bluff and Sparkman homes, said she was forced to close the homes because the suit filed by Mrs. Slinger had tied up several thousand dollars in welfare funds.

The suit claims Mrs. Hucksby violated the lease agreement.

Man Drowned in White River

AUGUSTA, Ark. (AP) — James Johnson, 40, of Augusta drowned Wednesday when a boat capsized in the White River at Augusta.

Sheriff Ed Hall of Woodruff County said Johnson and the other employees of Dacus Lumber Co. of Augusta were taking some equipment to a tug boat on the river when the boat the men were in capsized.

Firm Acquires 3 New Gibson Centers

Howard-Gibco Corporation of Texarkana announces the purchase of three additional Gibson Discount Centers. Two of the new stores are in Amarillo, Texas and the third in Plainview, Texas.

The sale was for an undisclosed sum of cash. Total sales of the three stores for 1969 was $3.2 million exclusive of leased departments. Even though the stores were marginal in profits for 1969, Howard-Gibco officials are convinced that both areas have a good business climate, and the markets are exceptionally good.

With proper systems of control, promotion and management, these stores can be very profitable operations, corporate officials stated.

Thursday, March 12th, Howard-Gibco Corporation opens a new Gibson Discount Center in Tulsa, Oklahoma. The new 65,000 square foot store is the second of several stores to be opened in the Tulsa Market.

With the acquisition of these three stores by Howard-Gibco corporation, and the opening of the new Tulsa store, this brings the total of Gibson Discount Centers to 25 that the corporations now operates in four states. Howard-Gibco stock is listed on the Over-the-Counter Board of Trade. The Gibson Discount Center in Hope is operated by Howard-Gibco corporation.

cause of her health, and Paul McClellan who has moved outside the city limits. The Planning and Zoning Commission is composed of nine members. Mrs. Louella Graham, one of the new appointees, was a member of the original Planning and Zoning Commission, created in 1959. She served for several years until the family moved to Little Rock. Mrs. Graham has several years experience with this commission. She helped work out the first comprehensive zoning plan, land use plan, and master street plan.

In other action, the Board authorized Mayor Douglas to sign a pipeline crossing agreement with the Missouri Pacific Railroad covering a waterline crossing proposed on Highway 32 in connection with the water development program now underway by the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hucksbee of 918 Foster Avenue met with the city officials to request that property owners abutting the alley back of their residence be required to move fences and other encroachments on the alley back of their property. The Board of Directors asked that the property owners establish their property line so that a definite line could be established, at which time they would issue an order moving all obstructions so that the alley could be opened.

The Board of Directors appointed Ben Edwards and Mrs. Louella Graham as members of the Planning and Zoning Commission, to replace Robert Dennis and Dub Flowers who terms on the commission have expired. Tim McFate, also whose term is expiring, was re-appointed. The appointments are for three year terms. There are still two vacancies on the Planning and Zoning Commission, that of Mrs. Mable Ward, who has retired because of her health.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

LETTER TO A MOTHER
Dear Helen: This is a plea to my mother, perhaps to an almost universal mother who worries needlessly:

I have been blessed with two wonderful parents who have given me everything in their power. They sacrificed so that I might have braces. They sent me to Hawaii. They provided an excellent college education. I am grateful. I owe them a lot and have tried to repay by adhering to their beliefs and moral values, even though I disagree with a few.

I don't smoke pot; in fact, I'm very much against it. I don't abuse sex; in fact, I'm quite puritanical in regard to it. I work hard in school, and I am straight.

I write poetry. One of my poems was written after a dear friend and I went to church to pray together, and I was expressing the sacred feeling I had gotten from this experience. My mother found the poem distasteful, because my friend was a man.

I am a loner and I enjoy staying at our shore house alone so I have an opportunity to walk the winter beach and reflect upon what beauty is left in the world. My mother accuses me of being weird and promiscuous because of this.

I have only one request. Upon graduation from college, I'll be leaving, so that my parents will finally be able to enjoy their life together. But, until that time, I pray that my mother will accept me as I am, trust me and, above all, make a sincere effort to understand me. I might not be exactly what she had hoped for, I'm no saint—that's sure—but I'm ME and I'd be so very happy if she'd just once believe in me!—OF A DIFFERENT TIME.

Dear Different Time: You and your mother—perhaps that almost universal mother— are "then" and "now". You'll understand each other only if each comes a little into the other's world. But how can you, when you're both so busy defending your "time" that you won't concede another era also merits praise?

These words are mostly for your mother, as you have already conformed to HER world. But "conforming" isn't accepting. Perhaps if you'd let her know you see the WORTH in some of her values, she'd see much more worth in yours.—H.

Dear Helen: I am a 15-year-old girl who had a lovely experience: I worked for a while with seven mentally retarded children. Could I try to share it with you?

Roger's cute smile—he's forever smiling. His love poured out to me the minute I saw him—and mine to him! Debbie's urge to help all she can. She does an excellent job, too. Glen, who loves to play tetherball and is so happy to have a partner. Countie, the little mother with her brood of dolls. When you tell her she looks pretty, she glows. Larry: He loves to be held and cuddles. Jerome: Him and his husky, lovable laugh. And, last of all, there's Mark, a 14-year-old misfit, who sat alone and was content with his own world. I love these children very much and I tried my hardest to be fun and make them laugh.

When you've worked with kids like these, you don't laugh at them, you smile and say, "God thank you for making them happy." For they are! I pray they'll have happiness forever.

When teens think of volunteer work, I hope they try homes for the mentally retarded. Volunteers are needed here—and the work is so rewarding.—SOMEONE WHO CARES.

Coming. Going
Going to Texarkana Tuesday night for the performance of "Mame" was a large group from Hope that included: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shiver, Mr. and Mrs. F.M. Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Nix, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sharpe, Jr., Sue Duckett, James Luck, Dr. Emmett Thompson, and Mesdames Lamar Cox, Mike Kelly, Thompson Evans, Jr., George Wright, Cecil Wyatt, Milton Eason, Thell Joplin, Herbert Burns, A.A. Albritton, and Clyde Fouse.

Mrs. Clyde Ellen, El Dorado, visited Mrs. Wayne Harding in Hope earlier this week.

Mrs. Ross Honea and daughter, Kristin Grace, Little Rock, have returned home after a visit with Mrs. Ross Copeland, Mary and Bob, and Mr. and Mrs. Mayton Prather.

and she talked about symptoms, treatments, and ways to prevent it. Mrs. Kathy Ayers performed the duties of secretary-treasurer. Tentative plans were made by the members for a trip in the spring and for a supper meeting with another club.

Mrs. Patterson received a gift from her Secret Pal, and Mrs. McKinney won the door prize. Congratulations were expressed to Mrs. Tammie Daniel, a member who has become the recent mother of a baby boy. Games and fortune telling were enjoyed during the recreational hour. A sandwich plate and cold drinks were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Annie Lee Roberts and Mrs. Aubrey Campbell.

In April the club will meet in the home of Mrs. Iris Patterson. Mrs. Wayne Moses will be co-hostess.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Doctor series have, once again, proven to be durable television commodities. Three new ones were launched in September, and all of them will return for a second season.

ABC's "Marcus Welby, M.D." did so well that it was among the first series of the season to be renewed.

Among the three actually it is 2-1-3 because the medical segment of NBC's "The Bold Ones" shares the screen with two other story lines—Robert Young's Dr. Welby is the only one that can be counted as a solid hit. Much of its success is due to Young's sympathetic portrait of a wise and dedicated family doctor.

"Medical Center" on CBS follows the form and, pretty much, the traditional substance of the genre. There is some unwritten rule in TV writing that medical series must have an old doctor and a young doctor who are often in a conflict of ideas.

Dr. Welby is unquestionably the head man in his series, with James Brolin playing his swinging young assistant, E. G. Marshall and David Hartman of "The Bold Ones" play respectively, the mature and the young doctors, but both of them usually are supporting players to the medical inventions and developments around which plots are built.

"Medical Center" plays it safe and down the middle. The star is the young doctor, played by Chad Everett. Its emphasis is on human drama related to illness.

Wednesday night's hour was the story of an aging former football star facing surgery to correct a vascular condition affecting his legs. The point of the story was that it was not so much his legs that were bothering him as the fact that life was empty with the glory days behind him. It was a mildly interesting treatment in a series notable for its polished production and professional performances.

NBC's "Hall of Fame" series will present an Easter drama Friday night, an original play called "Neither Are We Enemies," it is set in the time of Christ.

Henry Denker, the playwright, is a specialist in the period. As a boy he studied to be a rabbi, and later had his initial success writing radio's biblical series, "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

The play is based on two men's different interpretations of the words of Jesus. Denker maintains that, because it deals frankly with animosity between Christians and Jews, the theme would not have been acceptable for television a few years ago.

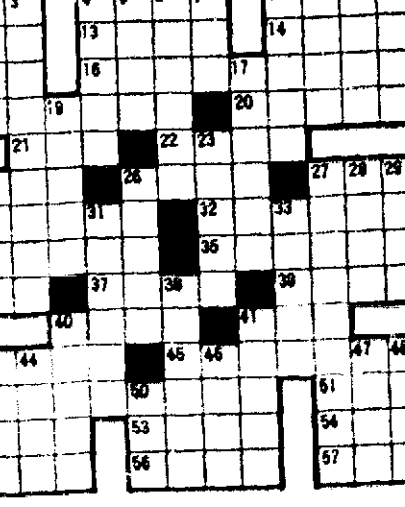

"I could not have dramatized this story until the ecumenical movement and spirit came along," he said. "I've been thinking about the story for years."

Denker, while writing some 400 radio scripts based on the Bible, amassed a collection of some 40 different versions. He has also written novels on various themes and in contemporary backgrounds. His plays include the hits "Time Limit" and "A Case of Libel."

Van Heflin and Ed Begley will star in the 90-minute drama.

Arkadelphia Loses in Overtime

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Althelmer and Camden advanced to the semifinals of the state Class AA senior boys basketball tournament Wednesday while top-ranked Searcy narrowly survived the first round.

In quarterfinal games, Althelmer whipped Arkadelphia 74-66 in overtime and Camden slipped past Marvell 69-60. Searcy closed out first-round action Wednesday afternoon, edging Greene County Tech 55-54 on Lonnie Weber's field goal with 17 seconds remaining.

In today's action, Camden Fairview plays Newport at 3:30 and Searcy meets Harrison at 6:30.

Althelmer led Arkadelphia until the closing minutes Wednesday night, when the Badgers fashioned a 64-62 advantage. Sam Witherspoon sent the game into overtime when he hit a jump shot with one minute remaining.

Donald Abram and Roy Bishop scored four points each in the overtime and Arkadelphia managed only a late field goal. Bishop led all scorers with 37 points and Witherspoon added 18.

Bill Vining paced Arkadelphia with 24 while Roosevelt Davis scored 19 and Fred Lookadoo 16 for the Badgers.

Camden jumped off to a 37-27 halftime lead and Marvell never got closer than five points the rest of the way. Camden will play Althelmer in the semifinals Friday afternoon.

Tim Womack paced Camden with 17 points. Randall Ferguson added 16 and Mike Martin 15. Scholar Rowland scored 20 for Marvell and Walter Williams added 19.

Searcy, ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press high school basketball poll, trailed Tech 26-24 at the half. The Lions rallied for a 38-38 tie entering the fourth quarter. Weber, who finished with 22 points, scored the Lions' last nine points.

Cary Rogers paced Tech with 21 points.

Will Try to Keep Pilots in Seattle

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Joe Cronin, American League president, says "we love Milwaukee" but he pledged Wednesday to "do everything possible" to see that the financially troubled Pilots open the baseball season in Seattle.

There still were persistent reports, however, that Milwaukee, without baseball since the National League yanked the Braves away just before the 1966 season began, would get the Pilots' franchise before 1970's first games.

"We still are in Seattle and we will do everything possible to resolve Seattle's financial problem," Cronin told an impromptu news conference.

Three Advance in Triple A Tournament

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock McClellan and Hot Springs Wednesday advanced to the semifinals of the Class AAA senior boys state basketball tournament.

McClellan whipped Springdale 65-53 and Hot Springs clobbered West Memphis 79-49. McClellan and Hot Springs will play Friday at 3:30.

In today's action, Jonesboro plays Fayetteville at 12:30 and Texarkana meets Fort Smith Southside at 8 p.m. Southside was the champion of the league's Western Division and McClellan was the winner of the Eastern Division.

West Memphis and Hot Springs battled to a 10-10 first quarter the Wednesday night and then the Trojans began using their fast break effectively. Hot Springs, leading 30-21 at the half, put the game away with nine straight points at the beginning of the third quarter.

Hot Springs finished second in the Western Division race and West Memphis was fourth in the Eastern Division.

Richard Moore paced Hot Springs Wednesday night with 21 points and Tom Myles contributed 12. Mark Scott led West Memphis with 25.

McClellan led Springdale 25-23 at the half after trailing by four points at the end of the first quarter. The Lions pulled away in the third quarter and maintained a 10-point lead through the final period.

J. H. Williams led McClellan with 20 points and Danny Williams added 19. Tommy Ward led Springdale with 25 points and Mike Lankford contributed 20.

Kuhn Can't See Strike Possibility

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn says he doesn't anticipate a strike for the opening of the new season because the players' mood is "to play ball."

Kuhn said negotiations by Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players Association, "with the various clubs are being carried on at a low key and I don't anticipate a strike."

The commissioner held an informal news conference here Wednesday, discussing some of the problems confronting baseball and declining to talk about other problems.

He refused to discuss the Denny McLain case. The ace Detroit pitcher was suspended indefinitely for what Kuhn called McLain's bookmaking activities in 1967 and his associations that year.

"I do not want to discuss the case until our investigations are complete," he said. "I have not talked with McLain since he has been down here (in Florida) for spring training. Nor do I intend to."

Asked about a report Detroit had fined McLain, Kuhn said: "He has not been fined."

This Could Be Year of the Dolphins

By BEN THOMAS

Associated Press Sports Writer
This is the Age of Aquarius. Will it be the Year of the Dolphin in college basketball?

Or will it once again be the Year of the Brain? Or the Wildcats?

The wedding out process by which college basketball's annual championship is decided continues tonight with eight games at four NCAA regional tournaments.

Of the 16 teams competing tonight for quarter-final berths, only top-ranked Kentucky and No. 2 UCLA have won national titles in the past. Kansas State, unranked, is the only other team to even get as far as the finals in the previous 31 NCAA post season playoffs.

A case could be made for the Dolphins from Jacksonville University being just the team for the Age of Aquarius. After all, the Johnny-come-latelies of college basketball have been scoring at a record pace of 101 points a game.

And the Dolphins, 24-1 and No. 4 in the final Associated Press poll, are a new and exciting entry in college basketball. This is Jacksonville's fourth year of competition, but the first one for the Florida school to make any splashes.

Jacksonville goes against Big Ten titlist Iowa in one of the two games at Columbus, Ohio. The Dolphins revolve around 7-foot-2 Artis Gilmore, the nation's No. 1 rebounder with a 23-per game average, and 7-foot Pembroke Burrows.

Here's the line-up for tonight's regionals, all starting times EST:

— East at Columbia, S.C., 7:05 p.m., No. 17 Niagara, 22-5, vs. Villanova, 21-6, 9:05 p.m. No. 3 St. Bonaventure, 23-1, vs. No. 10 North Carolina State, 22-6.

— Midwest at Columbus, Ohio: 7:05 p.m. No. 1 Kentucky, 25-1, vs. No. 9 Notre Dame, 21-6, 9:05 p.m., No. 4 Jacksonville, 24-1, vs. No. 7 Iowa, 19-4.

— Midwest at Lawrence, Kan.: 8:05 p.m., No. 1 Houston, 25-3, vs. No. 14 Drake, 21-6, 10:05 p.m., No. 5 New Mexico State, 24-2, vs. Kansas State, 19-7.

— West at Seattle, Wash.: 10:05 p.m., No. 16 Utah State, 21-6, vs. Santa Clara, 22-5, 12:05 a.m. No. 2 UCLA, 24-2, vs. No. 19 Long Beach State, 24-3.

Adolph Rupp, the Bluegrass Baron whose Kentucky quintets won titles in 1948, 1949, 1951 and 1958, was named Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year Wednesday.

Winningest coach in the sport, the 68-year-old Rupp needs another national championship to equal the five won by UCLA's John Wooden, including a record three-in-a-row, 1967-69.

UCLA also won in 1964 and 1965. State 49ers, are really an upstart. Until last weekend when the 49ers upset Weber State 92-73 in the first round of the NCAA playoffs, the team was virtually unknown.

The survivors of tonight's games play quarter-final matches Saturday afternoon at the same sites. Saturday's winners go to College Park, Md., for next Thursday's semifinals.

The championship game, also at Maryland, will be played March 21.

The 33rd National Invitational Tourney in New York, featuring high-scoring Pete Maravich of LSU, gets under way Friday with a 16-game field.

Elsewhere in the sport, the smaller schools are battling in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics tourney at Kansas City and the NCAA College Division Championships at Evansville, Ind.

At the NAIA, Stephen F. Austin, No. 1 team in the AP's final small college rankings, reached the quarterfinals, defeating Augusta, Ga., 74-71.

It was the 33rd straight victory for the Lumberjacks, including 29 this season. The Nacogdoches, Tex., team is top-seeded in the NAIA tourney.

Also reaching the round of eight in the NAIA were Kentucky State, Jackson State, Maryland State, Eastern New Mexico, Guilford, Central State of Ohio and Central Washington.

In the quarter-finals of the NCAA at Evansville, Buffalo State upset Stetson 75-74, Philadelphia Textile routed American International 101-53, Tennessee State shaded South Dakota State 92-89 and California, Riverside, eliminated St. Joseph's, Ind., 82-77.

Busch Brings Richie Allen Around

By TOM KALADNO

Associated Press Sports Writer
Richie Allen missed the deadline and Joe Hagos is making the most of the opportunity.

Allen, the St. Louis Cardinals newly acquired slugger failed to arrive Wednesday at St. Petersburg, Fla., for a 10 a.m. deadline set up by the Cardinals brass. However, Allen, in Philadelphia, agreed to terms late Wednesday for a reported $25,000 and said he would report to training today.

"We ain't gonna give in," said St. Louis owner Gushe Busch earlier in the day of Allen's refusal for a $125,000 contract. Allen, who clocked 32 homers and batted .288 for the Philadelphia Phillies last year, reportedly earned $70,000-80,000 last year.

"He's going to play at our figure or he's not going to play for the Cardinals," Busch said.

(Meanwhile, Hagos, who figured to battle Allen for the first base job, cracked a home run and added a single in the Cards' 4-3 victory Wednesday over Detroit.

Hagos, a slugging left-handed biter, batted .332 with 16 homers for Tulsa of the Texas League. Del Marvill also had a two-run single for the Cards while Don Wertz slammed a homer for the Tigers.

Washington made it five in a row, stopping the winless Minnesota Twins 12-11. Gene Martin crashed a grand slam homer and Mike Epstein a solo shot for the undefeated Senators. The Twins, 0-5, had homers by Cesar Tovar and Jim Belchard and a pair by Tony Oliva.

Rick Monday cracked a three-run blast and Oakland snapped a four-game losing skid with an 8-3 triumph over California. Tom Reynolds and Randy Duncan also had a round-tripper for the A's while Rick Belchard connected for the Angels.

The Baltimore Orioles swept to a 12-10 thriller over the Chicago White Sox in the slugging of Paul Blair, who cracked two 400-foot plus homers. Andy Etchebarren drilled a homer for the Orioles with Duane Josephson and Walt Williams rapped homers for the Sox.

Willie Crawford's two-run ninth inning homer climaxed a four-run inning as the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped Houston 15-14. Bill Sadak also connected for the Dodgers while Andy Kosco had five hits for the winners.

Norm Miller and Doug Rader homered for the Astros in the game, featuring 38 hits, 21 by the Dodgers.

Ron Hanson cracked a game-winning 11th-inning single as the New York Yankees topped Atlanta 5-4. Bill Robinson had the Yanks' first homer of the spring while Marlan Murphy crashed a two-run blow for the Braves.

Home runs by Bob Oliver and Lou Piniella powered Kansas City over Montreal 6-4. Ruben Amaro had four hits for the Expos.

An eighth-inning sacrifice fly by Cleo James gave the Chicago Cubs their 5-4 victory over Seattle.

The New York Mets rolled to a 6-3 victory over Philadelphia with Al Weis leading the attack with two runs batted in. Byron Browne slammed a two-run triple for the Phils.

Dock Ellis pitched shutout ball for five innings, scattering two hits, and Al Oliver socked a home run, leading the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 4-2 triumph over Cincinnati.

The San Diego-San Francisco game was called because of wet grounds.

Congress restored his general's rank to Ulysses S. Grant after he had suffered financial reverses following his term of office as president.

Fort Smith Favored in AAA Tourney

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Fort Smith Northside, winner of the Class AAAA round-robin, is favored in the league's state tournament which got under way today at Little Rock's Barton Coliseum.

In today's action, Pine Bluff plays North Little Rock at 2 p.m. and Little Rock Horace Mann meets Little Rock Hall at 9:30.

Northside won its last seven league games and is ranked second in The Associated Press high school poll.

"Our youngsters feel like they can beat anybody if they play up to their capabilities," said Northside Coach Gayle Kaundart. "We realize we'll have to play two good games and be at our best."

Northside had to come from behind in several of its league games and Kaundart says this should help.

"Our improvement, poise and polish has been tremendous particularly due to the fact that we have had to come from behind," he said.

Northside lost to Pine Bluff and Little Rock Central on the road and then beat both the Zebras and the Tigers at Fort Smith.

Central finished second in league play, followed by Little Rock Horace Mann, Pine Bluff, North Little Rock, Hall and El Dorado tied for sixth place and Hall won a playoff to earn the state tournament spot.

Northside won't be in action until Friday afternoon when the Grizzlies take on the winner of the Pine Bluff-North Little Rock game. Central also drew a bye to the semifinals.

The finals are scheduled for 9:30 Saturday night.

Hope Man Conducts Experiment With Catfish

Johnnie Honeycutt and Dr. Richard Collins

Here are some of the fish that were harvested in the Project at Beaverfork.

Beaverfork, a small public lake just north of Conway.

Collins, after careful observations, termed the results "highly satisfactory."

The crop consisted of 3,600 catfish, half of them channel and the other half blue. All were grown in specially built cages of one-half-inch wire mesh suspended from floating platforms in a remote bay.

When Collins and Honeycutt placed the fish in the cages June 19 they weighed about half an ounce each. They weighed about a pound each, with some reaching 2 pounds, when harvested in early November.

The project was backed by grants from the U.S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries and the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission.

The Game and Fish Commission was so pleased with the results that last month it awarded SCA a $21,420 grant to study the feasibility of raising catfish in large reservoir lakes.

The new project will be conducted in Greers Ferry Lake near Heber Springs. Collins and Honeycutt plan to put 25,000 channel catfish fingerlings in floating cages by April and harvest them by Oct. 31.

Honeycutt will be in charge of the daily feedings and much of the general care of the fish, the same responsibilities he had in the Beaverfork project. This will require daily trips by truck from his off-campus home to Heber Springs, which is about 45 miles from Conway.

In the Greers Ferry project, Collins will continue his investigation of problems associated with the cage culture of fish, make an economic evaluation for commercial use, and try to find the cage design best suited for growing catfish in large lakes.

"The experiment could have tremendous economic impact," according to Dr. Collins.

As he sees it, residents of areas with lakes and reservoirs could use cages, placed in bays and inlets, to raise catfish crops worth millions of dollars each year.

Honeycutt, who has developed a keen interest in the cage culture of fish as a result of his work, calls the cage method "almost routinely easy."

"All we've done," he says "is put the cages in the water, put the fish in the cages, feed the fish, and then harvest them."

Despite the project's simplicity, it apparently is the only research of its kind now being carried on in Arkansas, and perhaps the entire Mid-South.

Collins thinks the cage technique is best for bodies of water where fish cannot be harvested, such as lakes that cannot be drained. The technique might not be applicable to certain ponds, because of the amount of oxygen required to sustain a heavy concentration of caged fish.

In the Beaverfork project, the 3,600 catfish were placed in 18 cages. The cages were attached to six styrofoam-floated platforms. Some of the cages contained all blue catfish, some contained all channel catfish, and the others contained a half-and-half mixture.

By carefully weighing and observing each fish, Dr. Collins sought to learn whether separating the fish by species influenced their growth rate. His data has indicated that the channel seemed to fare better than the blue.

Honeycutt fed all of the fish a floating commercial trout chow. He fed some once a day and the others twice a day.

"According to Dr. Collins' data, it appears the extra feeding had little, if any, effect on growth rate apparently because of the slow digestive rate of the fish," Honeycutt says.

"This is nice to know, if you happen to be a commercial fish farmer trying to cut down on costs."

Collins says the experimental platforms and cages were built by a Conway contractor for a total of about $1,800, and can be used for several years. The cages were small: 3x4x3 feet. Larger commercial models can be constructed for less money.

He compares this outlay with the cost of raising fish in ponds, where he says the expense can reach $1,000 or more an acre in the most efficient operations.

"I can raise as many fish in these 18 cages as a fish farmer can in 2 acres of ponds," he says, "and I don't have to pay to have the pond drained and filled up again."

He also points out that fish farmers use less expensive equipment, including pumps and quarter-mile long seines, to harvest pond-grown fish. Collins' harvesting equipment involves only a dip net.

A number of fears raised about the project proved groundless. Collins says he once heard that it might be difficult to raise fish in cages because it was thought they might bruise themselves against the wire enclosures.

"We lost surprisingly few, less than 2 per cent, and I didn't see a bruise on any of them," he says.

Most of the 2 per cent lost succumbed to a bacterial infection in some of the cages in mid-summer. Collins and Honeycutt wiped out the infection by using Terramycin.

Another fear was that the commotion of skiers and fishermen on the recreational lake might retard the growth rate of the fish.

"We've had as many as a hundred skiers at once on the part of the lake where we conducted the research," Collins says. "It didn't seem to bother them. Apparently, they're able to adjust to it."

Fears of vandalism also proved groundless.

While Collins thinks the project has wide application, Conway fishermen have been the chief beneficiaries so far. After harvesting the fish, he released them in the lake, except for a small batch that he and Honeycutt could observe during the winter.

Honeycutt, notes that the project already has resulted in a new Game and Fish Commission policy enabling individuals to lease portions of state-owned lakes for the cage culture of fish. The policy provides that 5 per cent of the fish raised must be turned loose in the lakes for the benefit of the public.

Honeycutt is a 1964 graduate of Hope High School, where in his senior year he was president of the National Honor Society and an all-District basketball player. He and his wife the former Ann Dover of Paragould, have a 2-year-old son, Johnnie Jr.

Patented Trees

A patent for a tree can be obtained under certain circumstances. For example, after they had worked for many years to produce a weeping crabapple called Red Jade, a patent was issued to the Brooklyn Botanical Garden.

FORM CHARTS

By MARTY RALBOVSKY, NEA Sports Writer

Louis, NL East

Schoendienst

PROSPECTUS—Red Schoendienst has traded away much of the old Cardinal gang that swept NL in late '60s. Cards no longer have power up and down batting order. Pitching is strong, as long as Gibson keeps winning. Biggest question, of course, is Richie Allen. His temperament is a gamble, but when he's happy he hits. Few in baseball better. Therein lies Cards' fate.

Allen

PITCHING—Gibson won 20 again last season, for fourth year in row, remains No. 1. Steve Carlton won 17, had second best ERA in NL (2.17) and even struck out 19 Mets in one game last year. Closest thing in baseball to Koufax: Nelson Briles, 15-game winner in '69, is No. 3 in rotation. Mike Torres, who won nine straight last year, rounds out starters. B bullpen has Rich Nye from Cubs, Chuck Taylor, Tom Hilgendorf. Sleeper could be Set Campt, 13-2 at Tulsa and Pitcher of Year in American Association. Rating—B+.

CATCHING—Joe Torre has no rival if he doesn't have to play first base. Led Cards in RBIs last year with 101. Ted Simmons, a 20-year-old rookie, will back him up when he completes service hitch in May. Rating—B+.

INFIELD—Will change of scenery make a new man of Richie Allen? If so, Cards very well set at first. Allen just reaching his prime years. Julian Javier back at second. He had his best hitting year (128) last season. Dal Maxvill has great glove or short, but hit only 175 last season. He'll be pushed by rookies Steve Huntz, Gerry Davanon. Mike Shannon, 254 still at third. Rating—B.

OUTFIELD—Lou Brock, 298 with 53 stolen bases, only face remaining from past, in left. Jose Cardenal, acquired from Cleveland gets first crack at center. Carl Taylor, who couldn't supplant Clemente in Pittsburgh, gets chance in right. Also in picture is Joe Hogue, power hitter from Tulsa. Rating—C+.

TOP ROOKIES—Simmons, a switch hitter, is highly regarded in Cards' system. So is Jerry Reuss, 6 foot 3, 200 pound outfielder who, like Simmons, will be in service until May.

Prediction: 2nd in NL East

CONWAY (Special)—If catfish becomes a major money crop in Arkansas, Johnnie Honeycutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Honeycutt of Hope, may deserve some of the credit for helping to bring it about.

Honeycutt, a 24-year-old predoctoral major at State College of Arkansas at Conway, is the lone student assistant in a continuing SCA project designed to determine the feasibility of raising catfish in cages.

The project is headed by Dr. Richard Collins, associate professor of biology at SCA.

Collins and Honeycutt completed the first stage of the long-range research project in November when they harvested their first crop of cage grown fish at Lake

Everything at bridge comes down to a matter of timing. If declarer doesn't pull trumps soon enough, his opponents may ruff his winners. If he pulls them too soon, he will run out of trumps entirely or find he can't ruff some of his losers.

The player who holds back an ace may lose it; if he takes it too soon, he may help his opponent. Overbidders get set more than underbidders, but they win more games and slams and so on ad infinitum.

East took his two heart tricks and led the three of trumps. South won the trick with his queen and promptly led his singleton diamond. West wasn't going to let that ace of diamonds go to never-never land. He went right up with it and shifted to a club, whereupon South took the rest of the tricks.

West was happy as a lark. He pointed out that if he hadn't grabbed his ace, he would have lost it.

North and South were happy, too. They had won the rubber. Even East wasn't too sad about the whole thing. He had lost the rubber but he was going to have a new partner for the next one and would be through with West.

If West had really been on the ball, he would have ducked that diamond. He would never make his ace but his partner would collect two club tricks in the cool of the evening and those two tricks, added to the two heart tricks already in the bag, would be enough to set the contract.

The Red River Vocational Technical School, in cooperation with the State Department of Education and the University of Arkansas, offers special educational classes for various agencies. This program is coordinated by the Hope Public Schools.

Those agencies participating in the program include Neighborhood Youth Corps students from Arkansas Farmers Union, Osceola Area Development Corporation, and Parks and Publicity. The Operation Main-Stream program also partici- pates as well as regular students from various departments at Red River Vocational Technical School.

Enrollees in this class spend one full day per week learning the fundamentals of education.

Regular enrolled students who are taking remedial or special adult education this quarter include the following:

mas, Arkadelphia; Ida Dixon, Arkadelphia; Marilyn Stewart, Emmet; Cindy Richards, Hope; Doris Young, Waldo; Charlotte Johnson, Arkadelphia.

Grid Players Not So Dumb Nowadays

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — James Thurber once wrote a story about a big, dumb tackle who, to remain eligible for football, had to answer one question cor- rectly. The conversation went something like this:
Professor: "Name a means of transportation."
Tackle: "Duh-h-h-h-h."
Professor: "How did you come here?"
Tackle: "Muh father sent me."
Professor (exasperated): "Choo-choo-choo."

Football players, for the most part, have changed. A survey by The Associated Press on the academic prowess of last fall's All-Americans turned up some interesting items.
Mike McCoy, the Notre Dame tackle, took the following courses during the football season: Intermediate macro theory, urban economics, credit and banking, advanced statistical inference and social disorgan- ization, Hardy snap courses.
— Dennis Onkotz, Penn State's linebacker, once got up at 7 a.m. the day of a game to take an exam in biophysics, his ma- jor subject.

— Four members of the All- America team also made the academic All-America. They are quarterback Mike Phipps of Purdue, tight end Jim Mandich of Michigan, Onkotz and defen- sive back Buddy McClinton of Auburn. Phipps also won a $1,000 postgraduate scholarship from the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Only three of the 19 seniors majored in physical education — tackle Bob McKay, Texas; center Rodney Brand, Arkan- sas; and defensive end Jimmy Gunn, Southern California.

The other 16 seniors had the following major subjects: Man- dich, economics; wide receiver Walker Gillette, Richmond, math; offensive tackle John Ward, Oklahoma State, forest- ry; guard Bill Bridges, Houston, secondary education; Phipps, industrial economics; halfback Bob Anderson, Colorado, busi- ness; halfback Steve Owens, Oklahoma's Heisman Trophy winner, general business admin- istration; fullback Jim Otis, Ohio State, marketing.

Defensive end Phil Olsen, Utah State, personnel and indus- trial relations; McCoy, econom- ics; defensive tackle Mike Reid, Penn State, music; linebacker Steve Kiner, Tennessee, second- ary education; Onkotz, biophys- ics; linebacker Don Parish, Stanford, history; defensive back Tom Curtis, Michigan, economics; McClinton, business administration.

Of the academic All-Ameri- cans, Phipps compiled a cumu- lative 5.10 average for all class- work at Purdue on a 6.0 scale.

When Onkotz isn't playing with his 2-year-old daughter, he's tackling the books for an assignment in mutations or ge- netics or taking care of the many rubber plants and vines scattered about his apartment.

Gillette, who would like to be- come a computer programmer if he doesn't make it in pro ball, took such courses as advanced calculus, introduction to com- puter programming and sociol- ogy: the city.

Reid is a piano and organ vir- tuoso who was invited to per- form with the Utah Symphony Orchestra.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Don't Skip Breakfast As Means to Lose Weight

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

In yesterday's column I outlined a plan for losing excess pounds. Although this is admittedly difficult, once your weight has started downward, losing weight becomes progressively easier. It must be emphasized that skipping breakfast as a means of losing weight is unwise. You should keep an accurate record of the total amount of food you eat in a day and spread it between three or more meals—but don't add any extras.

It is also unwise to weigh often more than twice a week. This should always be done at the same time of day. On this regimen, you may be a little hungry all of the time. Learn to live with it. You won't starve and you'll be adding years to your life.

Q—Is it the grapefruit that causes a person to lose weight on the grapefruit diet? Will oranges work as well as grapefruit?

A—On any diet, it is taking in fewer calories than you expend as energy that makes you lose weight. For reducing, a balanced diet is best and oranges in moderation may be included.

Q—I am taking Cytomel for obesity. What does this drug do?

A—This thyroid hormone is advisable only if you have a definite thyroid deficiency. There are better ways to lose weight.

Q—Our daughter, 16, is overweight and is taking Dexamyl. Is it safe to take this drug over a long period?

A—This drug is a combination of an amphetamine and a barbiturate. Both may be habit-forming.

Q—How do Obestat pills cause a loss of weight?

A—This drug is a combination of a barbiturate to reduce nervous tension, an amphetamine to suppress the appetite and thyroid extract to burn up calories faster. This sounds good in theory but can't be recommended in practice.

Q—I took Ambar for eight months and reached my normal weight. I quit taking it four months ago and my weight has started upward and I am tired and nervous all the time. Could that be an aftereffect of the Ambar or is it due to the C-Quens I am taking?

A—C-Quens may cause a gain in weight, not due to fat but to waterlogging. This drug may also cause easy fatigability and nervous tension.

44 Grammys Awarded for Recordings

By MARY CAMPBELL
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A 44-man rock group, a pop song and a machine that looks like a small computer did better than any individuals when 44 Grammys were awarded for the best recordings of 1969.

Three Grammys apiece went to the rock group Blood, Sweat and Tears, the pop song "Games People Play," and the album "Switched-on Bach," which is performed on the Moog Synthesizer, a computer-like machine that can sound like any instrument in an orchestra.

Winners of the Grammys, statuettes shaped like gramophones, were announced Wednesday night.

"Blood, Sweat and Tears," the group's second LP, combining rock, jazz and classical music, won as the best album of the 1969 contest year. Group member Fred Lipsius won the arranging award for the group's hit "Spinning Wheel." "Variations on a Theme by Eric Satie" won for BS&T in the best contemporary instrumental performance category.

"Games People Play" was named song of the year and best contemporary song, with two Grammys going to writer Joe South. Saxophonist King Curtis's playing of the song won for him in the rhythm 'n' blues instrumental performance category.

"Switched-on Bach" was named the classical album of 1969, the best solo instrumental classical performance and the best engineered classical recording.

Crosby, Stills and Nash were acclaimed best new pop artists of 1969.

Peggy Lee won the best female vocal performance Grammy for "Is That All There Is?" and Nilsson won as best male vocalist with "Everybody's Talkin'," written by Fred Neil in the movie "Midnight Cowboy." Composer John Barry's instrumental theme for "Midnight Cowboy" won as best theme tune.

"A Boy Named Sue" won "best country song" for its writer, Shel Silverstein, and "best country male vocal performance" for Johnny Cash. Cash won a second Grammy, for best album notes, those he wrote for Bob Dylan's "Nashville Skyline."

"The Love Theme from (the movie) Romeo and Juliet" won "best contemporary performance by a chorus," as performed by Percy Faith's group, and "best instrumental arrangement" for arranger Henry Mancini. Mancini has won in that category five times previously during the 13 years Grammy awards have been given by the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences.

Nixon Praises Agnew as Speechmaker

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has told big-money Republicans that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, "the man nobody knew," is the pride of the administration, the most effective fund-raising speechmaker ever to hold the office.

Nixon, once vice president himself, praised Agnew for his off-stage performance in the councils of government, too.

"There were those who said when I chose him, 'Well, that proves the new President doesn't know how to choose men,'" Nixon said. "Well, if that is the kind of mistakes I've made, I'm proud of this one, believe me."

Agnew's emergence as the party's star political performer was among the themes woven into the campaign-year oratory at a black tie dinner that raised nearly $2 million for the GOP Wednesday night.

The party's leaders in Congress, then Nixon, needed the Democrats and spoke of high hopes for Republican gains in the House and Senate in the Nov. 3 elections.

Race Trouble Discussed at El Dorado

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — A special student assembly is to be held today at the El Dorado High School west campus for panel discussions of the racial situation at the school.

A special assembly was held Wednesday to maintain calm and create a student panel to discuss the racial situation, Supt. W. D. Tomney said. He said incidents with racial overtones had prompted the assemblies.

About 100 of the 200 Negro students skipped classes to air grievances to school officials.

Tomney said some shoving had taken place among students and that a set of lockers had been overturned. He also said a soft drink bottle was thrown through a window of the school.

Tomney said the Negro grievances stemmed in part from

Chicken Outlet Chain Sold

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Frank D. Hickingbottom of Little Rock has purchased AQ Chicken House Inc. from Roy Ritter of Springfield.

The transaction, which merges AQ with Quality Franchises Inc. to form a new corporation called AQ Enterprises Inc., involved more than $1 million. The new corporation will be headquartered at Little Rock.

Two confederate flag designs that had been drawn on sidewalks at the campus. He said some Negroes were also upset because a citizens council newspaper had been circulated by a few white students earlier this week at the school.

Perry Mason Creator Is Dead at 80

TEMECULA, Calif. (AP) — Erle Stanley Gardner, the lawyer-turned-writer who created Perry Mason, is dead at age 80. His office, announcing his death Wednesday, said only that he did not recover from an illness, for which he was hospitalized earlier this month. Other sources said he had cancer. His wife, the former Jean Bethell, his long-time secretary before their marriage, was with him at the end of his 3,000-acre Rancho del Palmar in a hill area southeast of Los Angeles. He had lived there more than 30 years. Spectacular, stentorian of voice, usually deadpanned in expression, the maestro of mysteries rose at 4 a.m. to dictate a daily average of 20,000 words into recording machines. With the help of eight secretaries, he often produced six books a year. Gardner also masterminded

A 1968 book, "70 Years of Best Sellers," termed Gardner history's biggest-selling author. As of 1969, Gardner's publisher, William Morrow & Co., said 167 million of his books had been sold in the United States alone, with an untold millions more sold in foreign lands. They were translated into 23 languages. of Gardner's 142 books, 60 were Mason mysteries. His second string was a series about Bertha Coe, a woman detective, and her right-hand man, Donald Lam, written under the pen name A. A. Fair. Other Gardner pseudonyms included Carlton Kendall and Charles F. Kenney.

Primary teachers of Hope Schools met in the school administration building for a workshop under the direction of the Educational Service Center from Magnolia. Australian Overcomes 'Goat' Tag

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—John Newcombe started out as the goat, but came back with a clutch performance to lead his Australian team to victory and gain top individual honors in the $20,000 "World Title" tennis competition. The 1967 Wimbledon and U.S. champion, now a contract pro, hit an early lead in the opening match of the three-day competition Monday and wound up being upset by Cliff Richey in three sets. He surged back Tuesday and Wednesday, winning, winning his other two singles matches and teaming with Fred Stolle for a pair of doubles triumphs as the Aussies took the best-of-seven event, 5-2. Newcombe's comeback earned him the vote of writers covering the matches as the top individual performer. It also gained the $11,000 first prize for the two-man Aussie team in the charity competition with the defending U.S. Davis Cup Champions.

Newcombe's loss and a victory by Stolle over Arthur Ashe created a 1-1 standoff Monday, then the Aussies took a 3-1 lead on the second day as Newcombe defeated Stan Smith in straight sets and joined Stolle for a double victory over Ashe and Cliff Richey.

How to Solve School Financial Problem: Ask State to Reassess Hempstead County

As you might have guessed, the editor is getting a flock of letters on The Star's stand against the 10-mill increase in school tax which the voters defeated in last Tuesday's election.

Some letters applaud us, others are critical. We'll get around to publishing all of them—but first we have to answer the question everyone is asking: Now that the proposal to raise the tax in Hope School District 1-A from 40 to 50 mills has been beaten what can be done to help the schools?

The answer, of course, is this:

The Hope School Board should promptly form a coalition of all county school districts and incorporated towns and petition the Assessment Coordination Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission to make a complete reassessment of property in Hempstead county.

This would be a voluntary action, calculated to improve school and local government revenue not immediately but in the near future.

Our action would be voluntary. Not so with our neighbor, Howard county. State authorities moved into Nashville uninvited last year and gave Howard county an ultimatum: Either submit to a reassessment program or lose part of its state "turnback" funds.

Under the law a county must maintain an assessing level equal to 18 per cent of property's reasonable market value or lose "turnback" funds in proportion to the degree by which assessments fall below 18 per cent. The recommended assessing level is 20 per cent of market value, but the minimum level is 18 per cent, below which a penalty goes into effect.

Howard county's experience last year should be valuable as a guide to Hempstead county in any plans to ask for a voluntary reassessment program. Therefore I telephoned my friend Louis Graves, editor of the Nashville News, this morning and got the following story on Howard:

The Nashville School Board got behind the reassessing program and was joined by other school districts and the mayors of Howard county's three incorporated towns, Nashville, Mineral Springs, and Dierks. The county judge went along reluctantly, but the coalition had to override the county tax assessor.

An initial coalition fund of $25,000 was established. The Assessment Coordination Division sent a team to Nashville and spent several weeks training selected local personnel as appraisers.

At the conclusion of the reassessment program one of the locally-trained group was named special appraiser and was placed permanently on salary in the county tax assessor's office—and is still there.

This last is the most important feature of a reassessment program, Editor Graves said. Without it you will quickly lose the benefits of a tedious and costly county-wide survey.

It is this special appraiser who puts assessment increases on the tax books—and constantly polices the books to make sure the increases "stay put."

I asked Editor Graves what protection the Howard county reassessment program gave taxpayers who were confronted with an arbitrary increase in the taxing base. He said it was impossible to work out a truly proportionate cut in millage but Nashville and Mineral Springs cut their school millage from 50 to 45.

The reason I asked the question was that I was a member of the 25-man state-wide committee which drafted the 100-per-cent assessment amendment proposed by Gov. Francis Cherry in the 1950s (later abandoned by Cherry under pressure from the county assessors)—and a cardinal principle of this amendment was that as assessments went up the millage went down. That is, there was no change in the tax dollars until the voters had a chance to consider millage increases in the light of the higher assessing level—a just and democratic policy. The 100-per-cent plan was abandoned in Arkansas—but the same program has since been enacted in Florida, and perhaps some other states.

At this point I want to make The Star's position crystal clear. We have fought all school millage increases in Hope since the lifting of the 18-mill ceiling—and will continue this policy until school authorities recognize that they have the same obligation to help maintain fair assessment practices now that they had when compelled to do so by the former 18-mill ceiling.

You don't establish responsible newspaper policy without considerable study and consultation with unimpeachable authorities.

One day I asked a man who is recognized as probably the No. 1 educator in America whether I was right in crusading for a high assessment and a low millage. "But of course," he replied instantly.

There is no other way to guarantee the permanency of public school revenue.

And now that we have exhausted futile alternatives it's time we tried what we should have tried when we knocked out the 18-mill ceiling—a common-sense approach.

$638,000 for Construction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arkansas is scheduled to receive $638,000 under the list of military construction and housing projects Congress is being asked to authorize for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Winds Blowing Oil Slick Out to Sea

OFF THE LOUISIANA COAST (AP) — Brisk winds blowing seaward brought hope today that a massive oil slick might spare coastal oyster beds and a wildlife refuge which is a winter home for hundreds of thousands of seafowl.

The slick escaped encircling booms and barges Wednesday when high seas broke up the protective chain which had been containing most of it.

A company spokesman said the fire would be reignited "if oil keeps moving to the oyster beds." The company also was ready if necessary to frighten the threatened birds away with explosive charges.

Interior Secretary Walter Hickey arranged to inspect the oil-spewing platform today after a flight from Washington to New Orleans. Included in his party was Dr. Leslie L. Glasgow, assistant secretary for Fish and Wildlife, Parks and Marine Resources.

Cheyron crews were kept at work through the night in an effort to repair breaks in the chain of booms linking barges carrying oil-skimming equipment.

'Witches' Case Sisters Released

FAIRFELLSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Two sisters, who were severely beaten because they were allegedly thought to be witches, were released Wednesday from a Fayetteville hospital after being hospitalized for more than two weeks.

Sheriff Bill Long of Washington County said Mrs. Sheila Garmon, 28, and Cindy Perez, 16, of near Fayetteville would stay at an undisclosed location until permanent housing arrangements are made. The state Welfare Department has been awarded custody of Cindy.

Long said Mrs. Garmon told him that she and her sister were chained to a washing machine and beaten by relatives and neighbors.

Four persons, including the sisters' mother, and Mrs. Garmon's husband, have been charged with maintaining in connection with the beatings.

Troublesome F-111 Plane Dropped

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is now official: the Pentagon will end production of the trouble-plagued F-111 aircraft at a maximum of 556 planes—less than a quarter of the number originally proposed six years ago.

Gen. James Ferguson, head of the Air Force Systems Command, told the Senate Armed Services Committee Wednesday the Pentagon will spend no money on F-111 production beyond the budget year ending in mid-1972.

This, he said, will round out payments for four F-111 fighter wings, although there is some doubt whether Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird will approve purchase of the final 40 planes of the fourth unit.

All but six test models among the 225 operational F-111s have been grounded for intensive X-ray and sonic inspection as a result of the crash of the 13th F-111 at Las Vegas, Nev., last December.

Officials found the Nevada accident was caused by a steel flaw which caused a wing to break off.

Laird has said he will await the outcome of the Air Force inspection before committing himself to the final 40 of the fourth fighter wing.

NEW YORK (AP) — How can you tell whether your prestige is slipping?

"Recently you listed a number of ways a fellow could tell if his status image was okay," writes a reader. "But what if he has begun to slip, doesn't realize it, and even his best friend doesn't want to tell him?"

Well, if he's alert to his own welfare, that shouldn't be too difficult for him to figure out. There are certain unmistakable signs.

For example, you can be sure you're on the totem pole slide if the office boy starts using your hanger on the coat rack. The boss still calls you Charley when, after 15 years, he should know damned well that your name is Jim.

When you plump down in the company cafeteria during a coffee break and start telling a

Auto Fatality Near Rogers

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — Ingrid G. Dill, 29, of Cedar Bluff, Miss., was killed and three other persons were injured Wednesday in a two-car collision on U.S. 71 about 1.7 miles west of Rogers.

Officers said James S. Davidson, 50, of Bentonville apparently lost control of the car he was driving and that the vehicle was struck in the right side by the car driven by Miss Dill.

Russellville to Get a New Dow Plant

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Location of another Dow Chemical Co. plant in Russellville was announced today by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, company officials and Russellville civic officials.

The new facility, the second Dow plant in Russellville and Dow's third in Arkansas, will be built on a Dow-owned tract of land on the Arkansas River.

Construction is expected to start in two months and full production is scheduled in late 1971.

Financing for the plant will come from a $20 million bond issue approved by Russellville voters in 1968. At that time, a total of $7.5 million in bonds were sold to finance a Dow metal working plant. That facility, at a different site, will be dedicated next month.

Pushes for Vote to Drop Voting Age

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted Thursday to lower the voting age to 18 in all elections, federal, state and local.

The vote was 64-17.

The action was taken on an amendment by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana to a bill to extend the 1965 Voting Rights Act for five years.

The effect, if the House approves it and the courts uphold its constitutionality, will be to extend the franchise to an estimated 10 to 11 million young people between the ages of 18 and 21 beginning with elections held after Jan. 1, 1971.

In a late action, the Senate defeated, 72-15, a move by Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., to make the age lowering effective only after the 1972 presidential election.

WASHINGTON (AP) — After guiding his controversial proposal through a key floor test, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says he is pushing for a quick decision on his bid to lower the voting age to 18.

Postal Corp. Plan Passes First Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's plan to turn the nation's mails over to an independent government-owned corporation was approved today by the House Post Office Committee by a 17-6 vote.

The corporation, to be known as the U.S. Postal Authority, is designed to put postal service on a self-supporting basis by 1976. The present department of the post office and the Cabinet post of postmaster general would be disbanded.

The plan was approved in closed session with almost no debate and with no attempts at last minute revisions, according to reports.

The surprise approval came after chairman Thaddeus J. Dulski, D-N.Y., had announced publicly he would no longer try to reach agreement between the White House, postal unions and Congress on a postal corporation plan because all such compromise efforts had failed.

Industrial Giant Offices Are Bombed

By ANTHONY ALBORELLI
 Associated Press Writer
 NEW YORK (AP) — Bombs exploded in the mid-Manhattan skyscraper offices of three giant industrial corporations early today, marking the second such attack on businesses in three months. The blasts caused extensive damage but no injuries were reported.

An anonymous male caller telephoned police to warn of the impending explosions at the offices of Mobil Oil Co., International Business Machines and General Telephone & Electronics, and the buildings were evacuated.

Police said the caller also warned of a bomb at a fourth site, an office building housing the New York offices of Litton Industries, but there was no explosion there and a search turned up no device.

The blasts were the latest in a series of bombings that have hit Manhattan skyscrapers and federal buildings.

More recently there was the explosion of a Greenwich Village townhouse where police said members of a militant left-wing group were fashioning bombs and apparently bungled the job.

Police reported checking any possible link between the townhouse group and the earlier case. Anonymous letters to news media said the earlier bombings were blows against American big business, the government and the military.

Today's blasts were supposed to have gone off at 1:40 a.m., the caller told police when he telephoned at 1:00 a.m.

The first went off on schedule in a 34th floor public hallway at the Mobil office on East 42nd Street. It caused extensive structural damage, the fire department said.

The second occurred 15 minutes later on the 12th floor of the IBM office at 425 Park Avenue at 55th Street. It blasted a 25-square foot hole in the floor, fire officials said.

The final blast came at 2 a.m. in the 21st floor office of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., part of General Telephone & Electronics. It virtually demolished the floor and showered glass into the street outside the building on Third Avenue between 45th and 46th streets.

Second Moynihan Memo to Nixon Leaks Out, White House Worried

By KEN HARTNETT
 Associated Press Writer
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Daniel P. Moynihan's private papers to the President have suddenly become as public as press releases—and the White House is getting concerned.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said "no major investigation" has been ordered to learn the source of the leaks that for a second time within 10 days put a Moynihan confidential memorandum to the President on the nation's front pages.

But Ziegler termed it unfortunate that a member of the President's staff could not communicate with the chief executive privately without risking disclosure of the contents of his advice.

The latest disclosure Wednesday touched off a wave of speculation that Moynihan might be the victim of Byzantine-like intrigue spawned by enemies within the administration.

Laos Wants Ceasefire, Withdrawal

By GEORGE ESPER
 Associated Press Writer
 VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma said today his royal Laotian government is "ready for a cease-fire" but North Vietnam must withdraw its troops before there is a cessation of American bombing in Laos.

The chief of state acknowledged in an interview that American bombing raids had been stepped up in recent months at his request in response to an increased North Vietnamese threat.

Souvanna was asked about a new peace proposal by the Communist Pathet Lao, calling for a cease-fire and an end to U.S. intervention in Laos.

"Let's not talk uniquely about aerial bombardment," the premier said. "We must also talk about the presence of North Vietnamese troops. The two things are tied together, on one hand the withdrawal of the North Vietnamese troops and on the other hand the stopping of the bombardment. . . .

"In order to remove the effect, you must remove the cause of the bombing which is the presence of North Vietnamese troops in Laos."

Prince Souvanna agreed with President Nixon's statement that North Vietnam infiltrated more than 13,000 additional troops into Laos during the past few months, raising their total strength in the country to more than 67,000.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has expressed concern over the disclosure of private papers from President Nixon's counselor Daniel P. Moynihan to President Nixon, but a spokesman says no investigation to learn the source of leaks has been ordered.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The little war in Laos has blossomed today into one of the major issues occupying the Senate, with critics of President Nixon's policy in the day Laos means basing their objections on two grounds:

— Fear of another Vietnam. — General disagreement with U.S. policy in Southeast Asia. Two leading Republicans—Sen. Lamar Smith, R-Texas, and Sen. George Allen, D-Vermont—charge politics plays a role in the predominantly Democratic criticism of the President.

But virtually all Laos critics, including some Republicans, are those who have repeatedly objected to U.S. policies in Vietnam under both the Johnson and Nixon administrations.

The President's effort to clear the air by issuing a detailed statement on U.S. activities has clearly failed to still Senate criticism.

Some senators now say privately that, if everything the administration says on Laos could be believed, their fears would be substantially lessened.

But their experience on Vietnam, when they believed the Johnson administration to their later regret, makes them wary.

Laos War Is Now a Major Senate Issue

 WASHINGTON (AP) — The little war in Laos has blossomed today into one of the major issues occupying the Senate, with critics of President Nixon's policy in the day Laos means basing their objections on two grounds:

— Fear of another Vietnam. — General disagreement with U.S. policy in Southeast Asia. Two leading Republicans—Sen. Lamar Smith, R-Texas, and Sen. George Allen, D-Vermont—charge politics plays a role in the predominantly Democratic criticism of the President.

But virtually all Laos critics, including some Republicans, are those who have repeatedly objected to U.S. policies in Vietnam under both the Johnson and Nixon administrations.

The President's effort to clear the air by issuing a detailed statement on U.S. activities has clearly failed to still Senate criticism.

Some senators now say privately that, if everything the administration says on Laos could be believed, their fears would be substantially lessened.

But their experience on Vietnam, when they believed the Johnson administration to their later regret, makes them wary.

Many see a repetition of the course that got the United States into Vietnam. "It is following the same pattern," Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said, "first, aid, then logistics support, then air power, and then GIs," adding quickly "I don't think the GIs will go into Laos."

A resolution introduced Wednesday by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, which would put the issue on record as reaffirming the need for congressional action before U.S. armed forces become involved in combat "in or over Laos"—is designed to keep pressure on the administration to prevent an increase in U.S. involvement.

The doubt about the administration's intentions has been heightened by the events of the past week, in which the President originally said "no American stationed in Laos has ever been killed in ground combat operations."

This was followed by the disclosure that one, and then 27, and then nearly 50 Americans had died during operations on the ground in Laos.

Although the administration has admitted it erred, and pledged to list casualties in Laos each week, the damage to its credibility had been done.

Time Nearing for Annual Kiwanis Show

The time draws near for the presentation of the 27th Annual Kiwanis Variety Show. The curtain goes up at City Hall Auditorium at 8 o'clock on the night of March 19th.

For twenty-six years the funds derived from this Annual Kiwanis Show have been used in Kiwanis Youth Programs and more recently a smaller portion for the Kiwanis sponsored Golden Age Club. This year is no exception. All funds will be used in the same way. In the twenty-six years of Kiwanis Shows not one cent has ever been used for the operation or administration of the local club.

The present Youth Center started as a Kiwanis project, and if a new Youth or Community Center is built, Kiwanis will have a large part in that venture.

The property near Fair Park known as K Park was bought and paid for by the Kiwanis Club and deeded to the city. Practically all of the improvements to K Park have been provided by the Kiwanis Club. Some Kiwanis funds were made available for improvements at City Park in the Northeast section of the city. These are some of the tangible evidences of Kiwanis Youth Programs, and the funds now approaching the $40,000 mark, have come from the Annual Kiwanis Variety Shows.
